

Great Debate Fails To Faze Black Candidate Campaigns

By JOHN B. COMBS

While the great debate between President Carter and Republican presidential nominee Ronald Reagan were under the national and international spotlight Tuesday, black voters of the Columbus area were focusing their attention on races in which black candidates are aspiring for public offices at Tuesday's crucial election.

Of all the black candidates, The CALL & POST has given it's endorsement to four. They are:

Sara J. Harper, a Cleveland Municipal Court Judge for several years, is a candidate for Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. If successful at the polls Tuesday, she would become the second woman and the first black elected to the Supreme Court.

At the county level, Flora N. Swafford is a candidate for Clerk of Common Pleas Court. She is a housewife and former Dean of Women at Central State University. Like Judge Harper, Mrs. Swafford, is moving into an area traditionally reserved for men.

In the 29th District of the Ohio House of Representatives The CALL & POST recommends there-election of Rep. Les Brown to a third term. Also a relatively freshman, Brown, an orator of the Martin L. King Jr., ilk, is recognized as one of the most outstanding members of the House.

Rep. Otto Beatty Jr., who was appointed to the 31st District House seat last spring to succeed Rev. Phile D. Hale who resigned to join the campaign committee of President Carter, has established an impressive legislative record in five short months.

In recognition of his outstanding legal background, Beatty was appointed to the influential House Judiciary Committee. A black member of this committee resigned to make way for the appointment of the brilliant 39-year old attorney.

Although he carried to the House numerous other qualities, the fact that he is a distinguished attorney was the underlying factor that prompted The CALL & POST's endorsement.

Beatty, however, is facing two formidable challenges. They are Ray Jones, a 26-year old Republican who has conducted an aggressive campaign,

Although the debate settled nothing, it did focus attention on Cleveland and what it means to Carter.

Presidential Debate May Not Be Deciding Factor For Blacks

A Commentary
By NATE HOBBS

As of Thursday, four days remain before the decision will be made as to who resides at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. in Washington come January. As expected, it's either a peanut farmer from Georgia or a second rate actor from Hollywood.

But even after the debate between President Jimmy Carter and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan on Tuesday night in Cleveland, the deciding factor for black voters in the presidential election may prove not to be the debate.

When President Carter and Reagan debated each other, only the setting had changed, and the stated positions by the two were like watching another repeat that has characterized television this fall.

The substantive issues that blacks have raised during the presidential election -- jobs, obvious increase in Klu Klux Klan activities and equal access to and in the job market -- went noticeably unaddressed by the candidates as they sought not to lose support that they already have.

Mrs. Hicks 39, 5673 Rain-tree Pl., and Alvin Minter, 45, of Camden, N.J. returned to her home from the movie about 12:45 a.m. Sunday.

As they drove into the driveway of the townhouse, her estranged husband, George L. Hicks, 39, of 1586 N. Starr Rd., had been waiting in the apartment for their return, police were told.

Hicks ran to the passenger side of the car and fired several shots through the window at Mrs. Hicks. He then ran around the car to the driver's side and fired several shots through the window, police said. Both victims were pronounced dead at the scene, according to police.

Hicks, police said, had gone to his estranged wife's apartment to pick up his two children, who had spent the weekend with their mother.

Jackson blasted Anderson's position on domestic issues. "He supports right to work laws! He voted to cut food stamps for striking workers! He voted to weaken the 1964 Civil Rights Act! He voted against the Humphrey-Hawkins Full Employment Bill! He voted for the B-1 Bomber!"

Jackson then turned to Ronald Reagan. "Let's look at Reagan's African policy. Reagan says sanctions against Rhodesia should be lifted. Those are Tarzan politics. Down with Ronald Reagan. "John Anderson is a spoiler. His role is to divert at least two million votes from Jimmy Carter. A vote for John Anderson is a vote for Ronald Reagan," Jackson stated.

Calling the 1980 election a critical point of decision making, Jackson urged everyone to exercise their right to vote. "Our reasons for voting are much broader than the presidency. The real issue Nov. 4 is your house, my house, the courthouse, the Statehouse, the House of Repre-

"The County Commissioners' office and all the departments under its appointive authority, need an Affirmative Action Policy that works, and such a policy will go into effect next January, 1981 if the voters of Franklin County decide to replace the incumbents," Republican candidates Pat Smith and Dan Connor have declared.

Connor's and Mrs. Smith's plan would extend to active recruitment of qualified minorities and women for key, responsi-

Hearing On St. Ann's Hospital Move Slated

A new date has been set for a public hearing on a proposal to move St. Ann's Hospital from its present location on Bryden Rd. to Westerville.

A meeting on the controversial issue will be held Wednesday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at East High School, 1500 E. Broad St.

State Rep. Otto Beatty Jr., the Democratic incumbent from the 31st House District, voiced opposition to the announcement last week.

According to Beatty, the hospital currently provides an irreplaceable service to East and Southeast area residents, especially women needing good maternity medical care.

"It's not that I am opposed to the good people of Westerville having a new hospital; it's just that such a facility shouldn't be created at the expense of our residents," Beatty explained.

Registration of residents planning to attend the hearing will start promptly at 6:30 p.m., an official of the host group, the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation, promised Tuesday.

But what these people don't realize is that it is a privilege to be able to vote for whom they want to head the chief executive position of the United States.

I feel since these people do not want to vote, then they are giving up the right to express themselves on election day (Nov. 4), so

I'm a student from one of the Columbus colleges, and I am concerned with the low participation of the 15 year olds utilizing their right to vote in the upcoming presidential election.

Ray Jones Endorsed By Governor Rhodes In Ohio House Race

Ray Jones' candidacy for the 31st District seat in the Ohio House received a significant boost last week when the 26 year old Republican was endorsed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

In endorsing the aggressive campaigning Eastside native, Rhodes appraised him as "the best choice for state representative in that district."

Rhodes made the endorsement following a meeting with Jones during which they discussed vital state issues and campaign tactics, the Governor's office reported.

"People's attention is on jobs and inflation," Rhodes said. "They will vote for the candidate willing to face those issues head on. Ray Jones is such a person," Rhodes said.

Jones, in the meantime, was also endorsed by two influential Republican members of the Ohio House last Friday at a press conference. Assistant House Republican Leader Rep. William Batchelder of Medina, and Rep. Michael A. Fox of Hamilton (Butler County), Republican House Campaign Chairman, gave their endorsement to Jones whom they said "is well qualified to serve the people of the 31st District."

Fox, pointing out that "It's been over 30 years since a black Republican was elected to the House in Franklin County," said "the problem has been people voting the party, not the candidate."

Batchelder, reemphasizing Jones' "sensitivity to the issues," said "not only does Ray have his finger on the pulse of the voters but he has the knack to know how to make things happen."

Both veteran legislators emphasized the "need for black representation within the Ohio House Republican Caucus, and urged "every voter in the 31st District" to rally "behind Jones and vote for him Nov. 4."

One neighbor, according to police, said after hearing what sounded like firecrackers, she looked out the window and saw a man bent over and looking in the window of the passenger side of the car.

She also recalled seeing fire from the gun as the man fired in the window of the car, which she said had drifted back across the driveway and rested against a small tree, police said.

Mrs. Hicks and her husband had been separated for two years. They had agreed that the children would live with their father and visit their mother on weekends. Mrs. Hicks had six other children by her first husband, who died 12 years ago - the family said.

Police then called the jewelry store manager, who identified the woman as the suspected thief.

Sgt. James Stratton of the burglary squad, said the woman and her car were searched, and the box the stolen earrings were in was found. The woman called her attorney, then volunteered to help police find the missing earrings.

While pretending to help police, the woman complained of nausea and was taken to Grand Hospital where X-rays spotted an image of earrings in her stomach, Stratton said.

The clasp on the earrings, it seems, had come off the posts and lodged in the woman's stomach. Police are now hoping that old Mother Nature will cause the diamonds to be delivered.

After a bedside arraignment at the hospital, the prosecution was granted a motion to allow police to confiscate Cunningham's excretia and curtail her phone calls in her private room. A $10,000 surety bond was ordered, contingent on the evidence being produced when nature calls.

Doctors indicate Tuesday that surgery may be required to secure the evidence and prevent the woman from possible injury.

Stratton, who said the case now seems to be in the doctor's hands, said M. Cunningham has an extensive arrest record. As a matter of fact, he said, her record covers from four to five pages, and she is known under 13 bogus (alias) names. As far as he could determine, all Cunningham's arrests were made in Columbus, he said.

But as to whether the case will be presented to the grand jury for an indictment, obviously depends on Mother Nature or surgery.

Woodcarver Elijah Pierce Inducted In Hall Of Fame

By ARNETT HOWARD
Nationally recognized woodcarver Elijah Pierce and longtime singing stars the Mills Brothers were among the 14 persons inducted in the fourth award ceremonies sponsored by the Ohio Commission on Aging Senior Citizen Hall of Fame.

Murtice Taylor Mills, a social worker from Cleveland and organizer of the commissions northeast Ohio services, was also inductee in the ceremonies that took place at the Martin Janis Center.

Nearly 600 persons were in attendance to hear Director Janis and assistant directors James Alexander and Kenneth Mahan recite the deeds that qualified the nominees into the Hall of Fame. Other nominees were violinist David Rubinoff, deaf activist James Flood, Shremman Frost, formerly with the Natural Resources Department, Edward Kuekus, Pulitzer Prize winning cartoonist with the Cleveland Press, Edward Haaf, agriculturalist and Grange Mutual Insurance organizer, Dominic Labino, inventor and glass researcher, Helen McClellan, Cleveland nurse and WWI winner of the Distinguished Service Cross, William Presser, Teamster organizer, social worker and Donald Robinson, OSU agriculture professor.

Pierce's sacred woodcarvings have received wide recognition through the 1970s, and his work, which is on display daily at his gallery at 534 E. Long St., was the subject of a New York Times Magazine feature in 1979.

The Mills Brothers were raised in the Bellfontaine area and became international singing stars in the 1930s with recorded hits like "It's Only a Paper Moon," and "Sweet Sue." They made an appearance at the 1980 Ohio State Fair and continue to be a top draw at hotels and concert halls around the world.

They, along with Pierce and Mrs. Mills, along with other blacks in the Ohio Senior Citizens Hall of Fame, like Anne Brown, social worker, Jesse Owens, athlete, Zelma Watson George, singer, and William O. Walker, newspaper publisher. The Hall of Fame is located in the Martin Janis Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds and is open daily.

Why Ronald Reagan

Now that we have arrived at the threshold of the 1980 presidential election, we must make a choice.

A choice between an incumbent who narrowly won renomination from his own party; and, a challenger whose public record is that of two terms as governor of California, our most populous and cosmopolitan state.

That choice is never easy. The history of American politics shows few cases where the candidates have been models of perfection. Democracy is the most tolerantly human of all political forms. Some of our greatest leaders have seemed less than heroic on election day.

For Black people, it is important that we make the choice that is most beneficial to Black progress.

Political participation does not always guarantee that all of our needs will be met immediately or, in the future. What it does, however, is that so long as we keep our foot in the door of politics, the door will not be slammed shut in our faces.

Considering all the facts, with all the white and Black overtones and political party implications, we believe that the election of Ronald Reagan next Tuesday, Nov. 4, will be in the best interest of Black people. We therefore endorse him for president of the United States.

Blacks in this election, cannot permit party to be the determining factor in their choice. Organized labor certainly represents one of the dominant factors in the Democratic party. Yet, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, with one of the largest union memberships, has endorsed Ronald Reagan for president.

With a resurgence of racism in America, Blacks must again look to the presidency for a leadership that will pick up and hold aloft the torch of freedom and human rights to this nation and to the world.

We believe Ronald Reagan and George Bush are capable of doing this.

Dr. Nathan Wright, Jr., noted civil rights activist, says: "Ronald Reagan is the best man for the job...for healing and promoting equality among all citizens of this nation."

We agree.

Let's look at the facts. For all the things Negroes have done for white folks over the years, the whites still don't feel any sense of indebtedness or obligation to us.

But, for the slightest thing whites do for Negroes, there is a sense of perpetual obligation and everlasting attitude.

Now, let's face it, Blacks don't owe Jimmy Carter anything. He owes Blacks a much bigger debt than he can ever repay.

The few benefits Negroes have derived from Carter's administration, won't even pay the interest on gationist. It is the party that condoned the lynchers who made a Sunday spectacle out of lynching and burning Negroes.

In fact, it was not far from Carter's home that a Black woman was lynched and her belly ripped open and her unborn child fell to the ground and was crushed under the heel of a Georgia red-neck. This is the background from which Jimmy Carter comes.

Why segregate ourselves in the buzzard's roost of the Democratic party. If we believe in and want true integration, then let's begin with our voting.

We in Ohio have lived the better part of the last 14 years under a Republican governor. And, have done very well too. So why do we have to go into hysterics over the thought of voting for Ronald Reagan. He may not be perfect-what white man is? Reagan certainly has better credentials than Jimmy Carter had four years ago.

In voting, we are not voting for a political party. We are voting for a person. Therefore, we must judge that person on their own merits. By measurements as individuals, Ronald Reagan stands just as tall as Jimmy Carter. Reagan's indoctrination into the Black cause was long before Jimmy Carter's. Carter became a born again civil righter only when he became a candidate for the presidency and needed the Negro vote.

Senator Edward Brooke, the only Black U.S. Senator since 1875, was a Republican. Despite the fact that there are millions of Black voters in other northern states, the Democratic party has never even nominated a Black Democrat for the U.S. Senate. And, it was U.S. Senator Kennedy who helped defeat Brooke with no chastisement from Blacks.

So, where is the sacred obligation for Blacks to vote Democratic. Or, for Jimmy Carter.

Black unemployment has almost doubled since Carter took office. Housing in the Black community is worse now than it has ever been. There are more Blacks on relief than ever before. Where then are all the Congressman William (Bill) Clay, a Democrat, in a speech in Congress, said: "I am very skeptical, even disappointed by the Carter administration's efforts to project the President's appointment of Black citizens as a major break through for members of our race...in our community it goes without saying that Black people should not be impressed or obligated because Jimmy Carter appointed one Black to the cabinet. So did L.B.J. 15 years ago."

All during this campaign, all Jimmy Carter has talked about is what he has done for Blacks, as if this was a great deal. He has done no more than Richard Nixon or Gerald Ford except for judges.

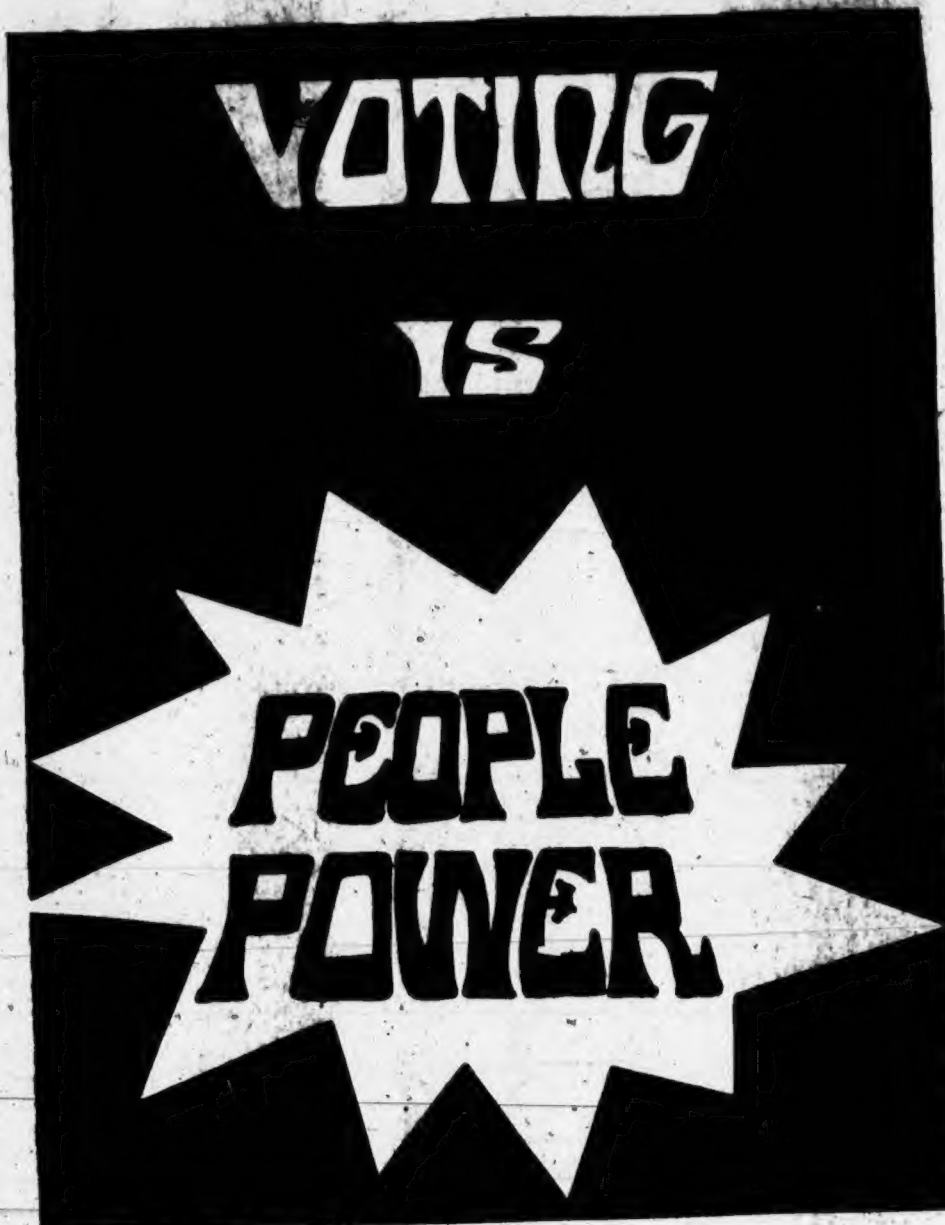

Certainly we don't have to be slaves to the Democratic party. It has always been the party of the Bilboes, the Klan and southern segregationists.

John Glenn For U.S. Senate

The voters of Ohio by all means should re-elect John Glenn to another term in the U.S. Senate.

In his first term, John Glenn has served the interest of black people well. He has a 100% record of voting the "Civil Rights Position" on every civil rights issue. He was a big factor in getting George White appointed Federal Judge.

We endorse Senator John Glenn because we believe that he will continue to serve the best interest of minority people in the U.S. Senate.

Sara Harper Is Qualified

Judge Sara Harper is running for Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court.

For 10-years, Judge Harper has served on the Cleveland Municipal Court. She is a graduate of Case Western Reserve University. Active in community and women's affairs, Judge Harper is the first black woman to seek a statewide elected office.

Judge Harper is well qualified for the office she seeks. We endorse her for election.

OUR READERS OPINIONS

Carl Stoke's Advice Not Needed

Dear Editor:

"Blacks do Not Need The N.Y. Carpet Baggers Voting Advice."

I feel those of us who do vote are intelligent enough to vote our own conscience. Carl Stokes is the one talking at cross purposes. In one voice he claims no political ambitions, just peace and tranquility, yet his vitriolic attack on a fine candidate like Virgil Brown smacks of the Kucinich like rhetoric. Virgil Brown is a qualified black candidate for the office of County Commissioner and his party affiliation should have no bearing on the local black vote. Gov. Rhodes is a Republican and blacks fared very well politically under his administration.

Let's not make the same mistakes we did with Terence Copeland (candidate for County Recorder). As a Democrat, I say "Help Virgil Win."

ALONG FREEDOM ROAD

Bruce Dimont, 75, of Tinton Falls, N.J., was disabled because of his age, although the administration and staff termed him a "model employee." Now the State Division of Human Rights has ordered Jersey Shore Medical Center to rehire him with $17,205 in back pay because he was illegally fired due to "advanced age."

Under the six-year old Federal consent decree mandating hiring of more blacks and women in the steel industry, substantial gains have been made. The number of women in blue-collar jobs rose 47 percent; went up 30 percent; female managers jumped 20 percent; and black managers gained 37 percent. Women in steel mills quadrupled from 1975 to 1980, but unfortunately with steel mills now operating at less than 60 percent capacity, many women and minority workers are being laid off.

HALF-FULL OR HALF-EMPTY?

Discrimination costs you money. That's what a lot of firms and even the Federal government are beginning to find out. Through class-action suits, based on anti-discrimination laws, hundreds of millions of dollars in settlements. Among them, Western Electric settled for $8.5 million, General Electric for $32 million, American Telephone & Telegraph for $40 million, Northwest Airlines for $25 million, and the list goes on and on. One woman, Jean Spencer, was awarded $273,387 last spring to remedy sex discrimination against her at Burlington Industries.

Parade Talk

The 1980 version of the traditional Columbus Day Parade in Columbus was held exactly 488 years after the great navigator set foot upon western soil. The parade was not tremendous. From beginning to end, it featured a general character of sameness.

There was a very conspicuous absence of one element from the parade this year, and that absence centered around the black Shriners of the Masonic Temple out at Long and Miami.

In years past, the high stepping marchers were an annual parade attraction that made black parade goers feel proud. They were not there this year.

The black Shriners made the biggest mark in the parades of other years, and the group was the only Protestant fraternal order that thought the day of tribute to the great explorer, Christopher Columbus, was worthy of recognition and participation.

The white Masonic orders never took part in the parade in those days when M.E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner, as Mayor of Columbus, headed the parade. What a contrast to the 1980 parade. Every Masonic body was there marching in honor of the great discoverer with those groups taking up at least half of a mile of the total line of march.

A very significant feature of the parade was its make-up of integrated units. There was just a sprinkling, but in so many of the marching groups a black face or two showed up.

Years ago, the black man used to jaw with the white man about his second class citizenship, because of his exclusion from so many public activities. The 1980 Columbus Day parade featured a lot of salt, and very little pepper, race-wise.

The integration angle was very noticeable. There were several high school bands, and each, for the most part, had black musicians. It is a very encouraging development, because with the arrival on the scene of more and more young black bandmen, the possibility of Columbus area black bandmen, the possibility of Columbus area black youths being welcomed into the Columbus Symphony Youth Orchestra and, in time, the parent body, is greater.

Most of the high school bands marching were from the Catholic Diocese, which gave little indication of the impact of desegregation. Schools that have crowd celebrated the courage and heroics of a man, who had believed that he could travel to the Orient by sailing west across the Atlantic Ocean.

It's all over now until next October 12, which will be celebrated next year on Sunday, Oct. 11.

We, parade goers, will long remember that exciting group of horn blowers from Ohio University and their ho down.

In the final analysis, it was disappointing that so few of the integrated high school bands performed.

They apparently decided to confine their parading to their rather restricted neighborhood communities.

It is worth noting, however, that black youths were actually marching and blowing horns-even clarinets-rather than banging on drums only.

It was a great sight to see.

Brown Bagging It Fights Inflation

Bringing your lunch in a paper bag was once considered very unchic. Certainly no executive would be caught brown-bagging it to the office. But, that was before inflation, and before the public became aware of the perils of eating foods that add pounds and raise blood pressure, blood cholesterol and triglycerides. For people who need to cut down on salt in their diets, "eating in" also eases the problem of selecting foods at a restaurant that are "on the diet."

Lunch in the conference room or at your desk can be a social occasion when other staff members join you, or a good opportunity to catch up on your reading, shopping, or exercises. For the person on a salt restricted diet, a brochure from The American Heart Association suggests that lunch need not be a sandwich. Consider packing a leg of chicken, a small tomato, cucumber strips, low-sodium bread or cookies, and fresh fruit. Coffee, tea or milk complete the menu.

Eating in provides an opportunity to have a better control of your salt intake. Anyone on a sodium restricted diet who is subject to occasional bouts of acid indigestion should also keep an antacid handy in pocket, purse or desk drawer. Risperin is the name of one that is reported to be effective and low in sodium content.

More Reasons TO LOSE WEIGHT

The overweight individual may develop premature arthritis and intense heel pain, according to the president of the American Podiatry Association.

The excessively overweight person frequently suffers from premature degenerative arthritis because of the added wear and tear on the bones and joints of the feet. Dr. William D. Munsey, DPM, of Miami, Fla., says:

APA's Annual Meeting in Hollywood, Florida in August.

"The obese person often suffers from ingrown toe nails caused by excessive flesh around the nails, and athlete's foot, brought on by the increased perspiration that results from tight-fitting shoes. Corns, calluses and a higher degree of arch problems, also afflict the obese," according to Dr. Munsey.

Shortly has a problem making his runs, a lot of fathers and mothers, sons think he carrying more than groceries. To keep his earnings daily, he went and got a $57.

Having Some Fun On Election Day

By NATE HOBBS

Politicians have all the fun. They make funny little speeches and kiss little old ladies and bald-headed babies. They smile all the time and give themselves cost-of-living raises, and increase taxes to keep those big new checks negotiable.

They even vote for themselves on election day. Can you imagine that? A politician, especially the modern model professing allegiance to fairness in all things and people, casting a ballot for herself or himself! There should be a law against it.

The only reason there isn't is because the politicians make all the laws. They decide if we'll be rich or poor, educated or uneducated, work or live on welfare, fight in wars or stay home with family, have a job or stay unemployed.

And how do they do it? By voting for themselves. You see, even if you and I didn't vote for them, those clever politicians would keep their jobs (and those pretty or handsome secretaries) by going to the polls and voting for themselves.

That's why we can't get rid of politicians. They just won't go away. Of course, if you are an ordinary person as I am, you don't see many politicians until election time.

I have to go looking for them (and they can be difficult to locate) unless it's election time. Politicians love election time because they can tell you and me how well they manage our affairs.

Another reason we see those old politicians come election time is because they think if they make us angry enough with their unrealistic promises and rhetoric, then we would get so upset that we wouldn't vote. And guess what? Then they just go to the polls and vote themselves into office.

It was difficult for me to learn that. But I told you politicians have all the fun. Or do they?

I am going to have some fun by voting on election day. Already I've become a plague. I probably won't see another politician for awhile. They have become alarmed now that I am going to have some fun too.

I have control over those old politicians for once. I've suddenly become powerful! I am managing their affairs! Why I think I'll go off and kiss old ladies and babies and vote myself an increase in reason to smile.

The Ohio State University and its Office of Minority Affairs will "Applaud The Presidents" during the celebration of the 10th anniversary of Graduate and Professional Schools Visitation Days, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 2-3 on the campus.

The observance will open Nov. 2 with the traditional concert by the Walter and Edwin Hawkins Family. The gospel music program will get underway at 8 p.m. in Marshon Auditorium.

Tickets for the concert may be purchased from the Marshon ticket office, both OSU minority affairs offices in Lincoln Tower and room 203, Administration Building, 190 N. Oval Mall and Lee's Style Shop, 1009 Mt. Vernon Ave.

A limited number of tickets are available from the minority affairs office for the recognition banquet to be held Nov. 3 at 6:30 p.m. at the Lane Ave. Holiday Inn.

This year, the Visitation Days program will pay tribute to seven black men who have graduated from OSU in past years and gone on to become college presidents.

Stated to receive Distinguished Alumnus Awards are: Dr. Samuel DuBois Cook, president, Dillard University, New Orleans; Dr. H. Douglas Covington, chancellor, Winston-Salem State University, Winston-Salem, N.C.; Dr. Charles Lyons Jr., chancellor, lor, Fayetteville State University, Fayetteville, N.C.; Dr. Henry Ponder, president, Benedict College, Columbia, S.C.; Dr. Charles E. Taylor, president, Wilberforce University, Wilberforce, Ohio; Dr. Alvin T. Thomas, president, Prairie View A & M University, Prairie View, Texas; and Dr. Ronald Williams, president, Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago.

Keynote speaker for the Nov. 3 banquet, at which the presidents will be recognized, is Lerone Bennett Jr., senior editor at Ebony Magazine and an influential scholar of black studies. He will also receive a citation for outstanding achievement from the University and the Office of Minority Affairs.

Also to be honored is the Rev. Joseph Martinez, founder and director of Hope Outreach, Inc., a Columbus-based community and social services program.

The top five minority seniors from 59 colleges and universities around the nation, including several United Negro College Fund (UNCF) institutions, have been invited to the OSU campus for the past ten years to encourage the students to enroll in advanced education programs. Dr. Frank Hale Jr., vice provost of Minority Affairs, said.

"Ohio State's record as the top producer of black Ph.D.'s is one we're proud of and this program helps us maintain that national leadership," Hale explained.

"For our 10th anniversary, we chose the theme 'Applaud The Presidents' because they represent the type of achievement that this program is all about," he added.

One hundred of the outstanding students invited to Visitation Days will be selected for minority fellowships at the university, Hale said.

Since the program began, the university's financial commitment has exceeded $5 million.

Youth Services Bureau Plans Agency Summit Meeting

The Department of Community Services for the City of Columbus is calling a summit meeting of agencies involved with youth in the city and county to discuss "the tremendous increase in the severity of juvenile crimes," according to Clifford A. Tyree, administrator of the Department's Youth Service Bureau.

The meeting, which will be held Monday, November 3, 1:30-3:30 p.m. at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, 760 E. Broad Street, will include members of social service agencies serving youth, representatives from mental agencies, clergy, the courts and the Police Department.

"The Youth Service Bureau is a juvenile delinquency intervention program," according to Odella T. Welch, director of the Department of Community Services, "and as the department is charged with coordinating human and social services, we felt we needed to coordinate agency work on the current juvenile delinquency problem."

CLIFFORD TYREE ...concerned

committed by juveniles," Tyree said. "The elderly are afraid to come out of their houses."

"The prevention of juvenile crime," Tyree said, "is not a police problem. The police are involved in apprehension and detention, but the prevention of crime is a total community problem."

Tyree's Youth Service Bureau is working daily to work with youth before they become offenders. However, Tyree said that the problem of juvenile crime must be dealt with by the entire community.

At the summit meeting, Tyree said the group can deal with the sociological implications of juvenile crime. "Hopefully," Tyree said, "from this meeting will come some direction or recommendations of future meetings, recommendations to the Mayor, City Council, or County Commissioners in dealing with juvenile crime."

HONORED-Mrs. Clarine Polk was recently feted by members of the Unity Neighborhood Association for her many years of dedicated service to the community. Mrs. Polk, the organization's president, was presented with a surprise gift certificate from Lazarus. It was the second citation this year for the esteemed community volunteer. Last Spring she was the proud recipient of the Mayor's Award For Volunteer Service presented by Mayor Tom Moody during ceremonies at the Ohio Theatre. Mrs. Polk, the group's founder, recently accomplished major tasks for the betterment of her neighborhood. With the help of Councilman Jerry Hammond, she was instrumental in acquiring over $800,000 of federal funds for housing and capital improvements. Polk also served for many years as the area's Democratic Ward Committee woman until her retirement last year.

Beatty Voices Concern Over Jones' $5,069 Debt To Republicans

State Representative Otto Beatty Jr. expressed shock and dismay this week that his Republican opponent, Ray Jones had allowed himself to be placed in a financial position where the Republican Party could control him.

Beatty stated that the Republican Party has a debt of $5,069 hanging over the head of the Committee to Elect Ray Jones.

The disclosure was set forth in Jones' finance report, dated Wednesday, Oct. 22, 1980, Beatty said.

"I am personally disappointed at Jones' indebtedness to the Republican Party," Beatty observed.

Beatty, the incumbent Democrat in the 31st House District race, further noted that the Ohio Republican Council gave Jones the amount of $1,580, as set forth in the same report.

"According to the report, the Republicans also loaned him (Jones) another $1,071 in June," Beatty added.

"He (Jones) has violated his responsibility to the black community by allowing the Republican Party to own him lock-stock-and-barrel," Beatty charged.

Recalling past political campaigns, Beatty noted, "The Republicans make a habit of running blacks to split the black vote and then give them a better job for their vote-splitting efforts."

"Rather than concentrating on the issues, Jones has made the main thrust of his campaign an attack on me, because the Republicans have targeted the 31st District for an all-out effort to defeat me," Beatty warned.

Beatty said he believes the campaign attacks are aimed at him for the following reasons:

"I'm the only black lawyer in the General Assembly; the Republican Party doesn't want an experienced attorney, who is also black, to sit in the House to help keep the other black representatives out of trouble when complex laws are passed," Beatty observed.

"I have also worked hard in trying to bring dollars into the black community, as well as black businesses," he pointed out.

"I have successfully fought for set asides for minority contractors and suppliers from the floor of the Legislature, as well as in my many years of private legal practice," Beatty said.

"The Republicans are afraid of me, because they don't want a black man in office who can't be controlled," he said.

"Jones has always worked in Republican offices and will do as he is told," Beatty charged.

Continuing, the Democratic incumbent further stated that "Jones is controlled and financed by those forces that do not want to see the black community and black business grow."

Citing as an example, a case in which the State of Ohio had a set aside project for minority contractors which became the target of a reverse discrimination law suit filed by a group of white contractors, Beatty noted that "many of the same forces that attempted to stop the flow tractors in the set aside fight, are now supporting Jones' election bid with financial assistance."

"Another example of how Jones is being manipulated," Beatty continued "is the fact that the same pressure groups that are trying to move St. Ann's Hospital to Westerville and block a inner city public hearing on the controversy

CHURCHMEN SUPPORT BEATTY-The Baptist Ministerial Alliance of Columbus endorsed the campaign of attorney Otto Beatty Jr. for State Representative, 31st Ohio House District, Monday, noting that in the light of the vital need of viable and legal representation in the district, Beatty had been declared best qualified by the influential religious group. Following the endorsement, the pastors issued a plea urging all registered voters in District 31 to vote for Beatty, the only black lawyer in the General Assembly, on Tuesday, Nov. 4th. Alliance members attending the press conference were, left to right: Reverends: Frank Hearn, Calvary Tremont, Odell Waller, Gay Tabernacle and BMA president; Jacob J. Ashburn, Oakley; Democratic incumbent Beatty, Samuel Jackson, Pomeroy, Ohio; Sloan S. Hodges, Shiloh and Cleophus Key, 12th Avenue. The ministers promising to wage an all out effort and hopefully successful campaign on Beatty's behalf agreed that "Beatty is needed in the black community, because its best interests are safeguarded by a legally trained mind."

Significance Of Jesus Christ Recalled At Baptist Congress

By ELIZABETH C. LANEY
The World Baptist World Alliance is absolutely breathtaking in its potentiality. To sit in an auditorium filled with more than 20,000 people, to hear them sing praises to our Creator in the same tune, yet you cannot understand their languages.

You smile and receive a smile in return from someone in a dress or robe or a longer dress or robe. Or maybe the attire is western, yet you still cannot understand their speech. But you clasp hands and sing "Bless Be the Tie That Binds," and know together you are one in Christ. It's a good feeling.

And it was that kind of feeling the speech by Dr. William A. Jones inspired in the more than 20,000 delegates from 119 countries representing the 30 million Baptists of the world. They all met in Toronto, Canada, a city with an estimated population of three million friendly, helpful people in its 240 mile area.

Pastor of Bethany Baptist Church in Brooklyn, N.Y., since 1962, Dr. Jones is president of the Progressive National Baptist Convention. He was the keynote speaker of the week, according to many folks who heard him.

In part, Dr. Jones recalled the message of Jesus Christ and His presence upon earth to redeem man. "For 30 and 3 years God lived at our level for our liberation," he said. "For 30 and 3 years He walked our walk, talked our talk and participated in our most merciful mission this planet has ever witnessed."

"He showed us not only how to live but how to die and the purpose of both living and dying. He joined together days and destiny. He put heaven and hell in proper perspective. He made utterly clear the ineluctable ties between earth and eternity. Over and over again, Jesus separated shadows from substance and showed that the good life is infinitely more than getting and gaining. Declaring the good news of the kingdom he articulated the everlasting significance of what we do with our ownness," said Dr. Jones.

The inspiring speaker reminded his listeners that Christ's visit was just that because "a visit is not forever." Dr. Jones later recalled the willingness of Christ to accept His faith and leave from among men upon the earth to make possible His return.

Dr. Jones said Christ told His followers that "They shall put you out of the synagogues. The time will come when whosoever killeth you will think that he does what God says. I did my way to him that sent me. My father beckons from the other side of existence...I know that sorrow has invaded your hearts, but it is expedient for you that I go away—my going is for your good, my exit makes possible another entry.

"My visit concludes that another visit might commence. If I do not depart, the Comforter will not come. If remain, the papaclete, the advocate, the helper, the spirit will not come. But if I will send him unto you."

In continuing to address the theme "Celebrating Christ's Presence Through the Spirit," Dr. Jones said, "The African religion is replete with interesting proverbs. There is one out of West African which says, 'If you want to talk to God, tell it to the wind.'"

"That proverb born in the land of my own elders suggests that the wind is God's messenger. That invisible scepters carry the prayers of people the holy presence. Ancient is the idea that God is identified with wind. Wind is air in motion. Wind is air marked by activity, air moving freely without restriction. So it would be with the spirit. Jesus is God's particular presence, the Holy Spirit is God's pervasive presence. Like the sky covering the circumstance of earth, the spirit covers the whole of the human order," he concluded.

There are some omissions, but the general theme of the sermon is quite obvious. The intellect, the consciousness and diction are inspiring. It made us all so proud. His sermon was the highlight of the convention, even greater than Billy Graham.

The Baptist World Alliance was born 75 years ago, when 23 nations met and the first congress became the Baptist World Alliance. The women's committee was formed in 1911. Later the youth committee, men's department and other committees were formed, encompassing 92 nations today.

About 50 percent of the registrants this year were white, with the rest being people of the yellow, brown or black races. Black women were well represented during the women's activities by Mrs. Cynthia Ray of Brooklyn, widow of lia Downey, Washington, D.C., president of the Nannie Helen Burroughs School, who has spoken at Shiloh for Women Day activities; Dr. Mary Agnes Jordan, Portsmouth, Va., former president of Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention Women's Auxiliary.

Other prominent women participants included Mrs. Margaret Smith of Chicago, former vice-president of the Women's Department of the Progressive National Baptist Convention and wife of State Sen. Fred J. Smith; Mrs. Fannie C. Thompson, Tucson, Ariz., president of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Baptist Convention of America; and Mrs. Marlene Belle Williams of Kansas City, president of North American Baptist Women's Union and vice president of BWA Women's Department.

During the congress, the Baptist World Alliance mass choir of 2,000 voices was undoubtedly enhanced by the presence of Mrs. Ruby Comer of Columbus' Shiloh Baptist. Over 100 Ohioans left Columbus to attend the congress. Making the trip were:

Mrs. Myrtle Angel, Warren; Rev. Earl Strother, Renville; Ms. Sue Prior, St. Louis; Willis McConhee, Springfield; Mildred and Penny Madry, Worthington; Leona Anderson, Cincinnati; Mildred N. Conner, Marion; Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Davis, Dayton.

Also, Deacon ad Mrs. Warren Cousins, Chillicothe; Ms. Betty McPherson, Mrs. Ossie Stovall, Ms. Gwen Brogdon and Mrs. Callie Brown, Warren; Ruby D. Comer, Betty Jo Martin, Bettye L. Reid, Lucille Callahan, Samella Bozeman, Daisy Muse, Deacon and Mrs. Harvey Randolph, Rev. J.R. Goodrich, Denise Goodrich, Lemar Thomas.

Also, Lorraine Alexander, Florence Richardson, LaRue V. Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bozeman, Hattie Benefield, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Richardson, Elizabeth Laney, Lela E. Thompson, Deacon and Mrs. Frank Cleveland Jr., Melodie, Frank III and John Cleveland, and Deacon and Mrs. Charles Wess and David Wess, all Shiloh Baptist in Columbus.

Also, Naomi J. Evans, Margaret Sinkford, Enora Lewis, Ruby Robinson, Sadie Jackson, Marlene Wyatt, Esther L. Fishburn, Helen C. Browne represented Union Grove, Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beatty, Oakley Baptist, Rebecca P. Hairston, Centenary, Ruth Goodrich, Hilltop United Methodist, Luther H. Laney, Rev. and Mrs. E.A. Parham, Trinity Baptist.

TEMPLE OF FAITH SPEAKERS—Temple of Faith Church of Deliverance, 2080 Brentnall Ave., will observe its Men's and Women's day on Sunday. Guest speakers will be the Rev. Harris Is Named Laymen Of Year At Second Bapt.

By PEGGY L. TYLER

In observance of Men's Day recently at Second Baptist Church, the award given to the "Outstanding Laymen of the Year" went to Harold R. Harris. He is one of the most admired men of the congregation because of his never ending labors of love that he bestows not only upon his church home, but to the many people that he encounters each and every day.

He is virtually kind to young and old alike but carries an unassuming profile. He never tires, and his love for God reflects his love for each of his fellowmen that he comes in contact with.

Harris is a native of Frankfort, Ohio and served 3 1/2 years during the World War II conflict. He was baptized at Shiloh Baptist Church which was on Rt. #35 near Chillicothe, Ohio, joined Second Baptist Church in Columbus in 1953, and is the former owner of Harris' Body Shop located on Hamilton Ave.

His many and varied church duties include: trustee (since 1959); usher for 25 years; chairman of the Transportation Committee; chairman of the House Committee of the Trustee Board; drives and maintains the three church buses; spends every Saturday morning at church working at plumbing, electrical, carpentry, yard and parking lot maintenance and where he is needed.

The most wonderful feature in all of this is that Harris does this all voluntarily. He feels if God gave him the talent to be a good workman, then he should give of his talents to God's church. He is the father of two children, Randi and Tony; one grandchild, Tascha.

Remembering the hymn "Give of Your Best To The Master" depicts Harris and his love for God.

Shiloh Church School Anniversary Planned

Sunday Schools may have existed as early as the 16th century, but in 1780 Robert Raikes, an English publisher, began his "ragged school." He tried to aid the children of the poor in his community by teaching them reading, writing, and the principles of religion. He publicized his efforts through his newspaper, and the missionary work of the schools spread to all parts of the world.

In recognition of this great work and in observance of the 104th birthday of Shiloh Baptist Sunday Church School, a special program will be held at 9 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 8, in the Burks Auditorium. The departments will join to present Geneva Bland of the adult department.

CONCERT SET—Key Robinson will be presented in concert 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 8, at Greater Emmanuel Apostolic Church of God, 870 St. Clair Ave. Joining the recording artist will be the Bible Way Gospel Ensemble.

Judge Sara J. Harper Tells Reception Guests Why She Is Best For Chief Justice

As "Evening with Judge Sara J. Harper," a candidate for Chief Justice Ohio Supreme Court, was time

well spent. She is dynamic. She is articulate. She has poise and presence, and she knows how to hold an audience.

Judge Sara spoke to a group of her devotees at a reception, which was given in her honor. The fact that it was a small intimate crowd didn't make her so never mind. In a clear, and concise manner, she shared with the group the series of educational, professional achievements and political events that brought her to this point in her life.

There were many firsts among them, and her list is impressive. In addition to all of the things she named, she is the mother of, get this, F-I-V-E-C-H-I-L-D-R-E-N, she is a grandmother, a Sunday School teacher and she is active in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Judge Sara J. Harper is easy to meet. She has a nice smile that looks very natural and she makes immediate eye contact with the persons she greets. Right away, you like her. One immediately senses that Judge Sara knows who she is and that she has a genuine liking and respect for people in general.

Judge Sara J. Harper didn't paint a pretty picture of the disgusting shenanigans that were designed and are being used to thwart her election to the Ohio Supreme Court. She didn't resort to political name calling, which is another test of the kind of person she is.

Judge Sara said that she did very well in the primaries and she needed to do even better in the GENERAL ELECTION, Tuesday, Nov. 4 in order to win. She said that, "Many people fail to vote for judges from the "Evening with Judge Sara J. Harper," feeling that she ought to have the job. Any lady who can take all of the unnecessary flack she has taken deserves it. She has a lot to offer and you can bet she'll have my vote.

A GALA WELCOME
Members of the Department of Romance Languages and Literature at them are blessed with distinguished professors who are endowed with old world charm and this is exactly what gave this party a marvelous international flavor, and made it oh so much fun.

Dr. Ronald C. Rosbottom, acting chairman of the Romance Languages Department and professor of French introduced new the warm fellowship, and they will indeed.

COCKTAIL-CHIT-CHAT PARTY TIME: Juanita and Ralph Hammond hosted a cocktail party at their home in honor of Dr. and Mrs. John (Clara) Harvey of Washington, D.C. The two couples are old friends, and it was the second time they had gotten together this year. The Hammonds were the Harveys' house guests when they were last in Washington.

HONORS: Dr. and Mrs. David (Maxine) Hammar are delighted about their son, David Jr. who is a senior at the Howard University Dental School. David Jr. was named as one of the "Outstanding Young Men in America" by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

SURPRISE, SURPRISE: Attractive Marion Calhoun was a wee bit disappointed on Sept. 18, when it appeared that her friends had deserted her. She told Gaylon, her husband, how she felt and he commented enough to stop her from feeling any worse, but he didn't chase the blues away completely.

Actually, Sept. 18 was supposed to be a happy day for Marion, and it sure turned out to be. Later that evening, when she walked into her house, cameras flashed and her long lost friends popped out from everywhere and yelled "Surprise, surprise! Happy birthday, happy birthday!" Then she knew why they all disappeared earlier, how much they cared, and why Gaylon had been slightly secretive.

THEIR STYLE IS GIVING: The Victory Matrons are well-known about town for making charitable contributions, and this year the club has made three significant ones.

The organization contributed $300 to the United Negro College Fund and $200 to the Crippled Children's Fund, and they installed book shelves in the activity room of the Isabelle Ridgway Home.

The bookshelf project which was chaired by Mrs. J.W. Williams Sr. was their "most expensive gift. And, it would have been even more had Obie McGee not donated his labor.

JUDGE SARA J. HARPER
As a result of the Victory Matrons thoughtful gift, the residents of Ridgway can maintain a bit of their personal dignity. Individual patients can ride around in a wheel chair and take books from, and put them back on the shelves.

Harambee School Gets Cultural Events Grant

Harambee School has been awarded its largest grant to date to produce another community art project. The $3,500 grant was awarded at the recent board meeting of the Greater Columbus Arts Council (GCAC) and was based on a proposal for a community artreach program towards senior citizens centers.

According to Harambee's special projects and development director Arnett Howard, "Exhibitions of music and art taking place in high profile areas of the Near Eastside community, like the Mt. Vernon Plaza, Franklin Park and East High School, are attended by thousands of residents during the year. However, many of the aged and infirmed cannot attend the public events because of transportation or safety complications."

Harambee's GCAC proposal involves having student musical groups and volunteer artists performing in homes for the elderly, senior citizens centers, hospitals and other areas that are found as good spots for the performances.

In the document the project director justified the need for the Harambee Community Artreach Program by stating, "Hospitalized and elderly confined persons are completely overlooked by most of society. The polarization between old and young has too many older residents afraid to leave the safety of their homes. Many confined to nursing care are physically unable to attend public functions."

YOUNG CHILDREN like these at the Harambee School will be going to senior citizen centers to produce a community artreach program made possible by a grant from the Greater Columbus Arts Council. The children are taught here by Joyce Mitchell. (ARNETT HOWARD PHOTO)

Harambee's project will bring visitors to the residences of many confined persons and bring the sunshine of young faces to those whose worlds are ordinarily dark, said Howard.

The school is an African preschool for ages three to six, located at 1056 Devoise St. in the Mt. Vernon Plaza area. The school recently produced the "Black Community Fest '80" and that project was funded by the Ohio Arts Council and GCAC, with a healthy support from plaza businesses.

As Harambee gears up for a Nov. 1 start for the artreach project it will be contacting eastside senior centers, nursing homes and hospitals to schedule performances. The school will also be contacting area businesses and churches to enlist aid in reaching the $5500 project budget. To receive the $3,500 grant, GCAC stipulates that other monies must be matched by community sources.

Tax deductible contributions to the Harambee Community Artreach Program can be made to the school at Harambee School.

Halfway House Chief Named To Ohio Group

Rufus L. Thomas was honored recently at a dinner given by the Ralph W. Alvis House Board of Trustees at Stoney Creek Country Club. Thomas resigned as assistant executive director of the Alvis House to accept an appointment as executive secretary of the Ohio Halfway House Association (OHHA).

RUFUS L. THOMAS...appointed

Many board members, staff and friends of the agency were on hand to toast Thomas and thank him for his many contributions to the halfway house program. On behalf of Trustees and staff, lifetime board member, Irwin W. Barkan, presented Rufus Thomas a marble chess set. He also received an Ohio Senate Resolution, sponsored by Senator Michael Schwarzwald.

Thomas, who has a Master of Social Work degree from Ohio State University, came to Alvis House in 1971. He was the first full-helped the agency develop a national reputation for quality in supervision and client services. Thomas and Alvis House have become synonymous with setting the pace for halfway house services to the ex-offender.

"There's nothing magical about what we do," Thomas begins, "Many of the practices we've simplified have been perceived as the then one facility agency. His leadership not because they are so complex. Rather it has served some professionals to make them seem complex. We employ many paraprofessionals. Its essential that we make our techniques manageable and useful tools," he concluded.

Thomas' vast experiences at Alvis House have prepared him for his OHHA position. His responsibilities include establishing training programs and providing technical assistance to OHHA members. He will also advise organizations interested in establishing halfway houses, plan meetings and facilitate the exchange of information.

AN EDITORIAL A 'Yes' Vote For Issue 4 Is Vote For Our Children

Although we recognize that property tax or any other tax is a dirty word among the average 0.85-ers, but The CALL & POST is convinced that the 0.85 mill property tax levy which will appear on the Nov. 4 ballot as Issue 4, would be in the best interest of all Franklin County residents.

The 0.85 mill 10-year operating levy would assure a continuation of the vital services the Franklin County Children Services (FCCS) provides annually to 11,000 dependent, neglected abuse and severely handicapped children.

The levy is being sought due to the need for additional operating fund, the uncertainty of budgeted federal monies, and the critical need to maintain the quality of services rather than a cut back in 1981.

FCCS officials estimate that the 0.85 mill levy would generate $5.1 million annually. The agency now collects approximately $7.9 million annually from previous property.

Officials however note that the combined 2 mills of voter approved taxes have been reduced to 1.33 mills due to reductions mandated by state law after three-year real estate appraisals.

It is also important to note that FCCS not only provide services to the neglected, dependent, abused and unruly children, it also services adoption, foster home care, school truants, runaways, curfew violators, crisis to service to families, group home care and temporary placement at Franklin Village for homeless children.

In light of these cold facts, it should be obvious to all that in voting for Issue 4, we are really voting for unfortunate children and crisis-ridden families.

That is why The CALL & POST endorses Issue 4, and strongly urges its readers to vote yes on this important proposal on election day.

Citizens' Civil Rights Continuing Concern Of Supreme Court Hopeful

By REGINA A. WILLIAMS

"Justice is usually pictured as a woman, yet a woman has not sat on the Ohio Supreme Court Bench for fifty years. Fifty years is long enough for the people of Ohio to wait."

This was a statement made by Judge Sara J. Harper in a recent press conference in Columbus. Judge Harper is a Republican who is challenging incumbent Frank D. Celebrezze for the post of Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court in the Nov. 4, election.

The first black woman to be endorsed by the Ohio Republican Organization, the Cleveland Municipal Court Judge is a founder of the first Victim's Service Unit in the city, established in 1974, which is the largest in Ohio. She has also been involved in the promotion of rape crisis centers in the city as well.

Said Judge Harper: "There is a need to induce change and inspire confidence in the legal institutions, especially in the court system. The Bench and the Bar must be prepared to re-appraise their values and re-examine their responsibilities in order to improve public confidence in our courts and legal profession."

Ms. Harper was appointed to the Cleveland Municipal Court Bench in 1970, by Gov. James Rhodes, and was elected to a six-year term in 1971 and re-elected in 1977. In her current campaign, Harper calls for more participation by non-lawyers in hearings into citizen complaints against the legal system as one way of instilling public confidence in the legal system. Ms. Harper said, "There is a need for a better quality of justice for the consumer of justice. The consumer wants to be a part of the ethics and grievance process."

When referring to the criminal cases in the justice system, Harper quoted, "We must be concerned about the rights of the criminal defendants, but we should also be concerned about the fundamental civil rights of the ordinary citizen to secure their person and property. The courts must work simultaneously on improving the process of the criminal justice system for both the accused and the victims."

Judge Harper is the second woman ever to run for a position in the Ohio Supreme Court. If elected she will be the first black woman to hold the post of chief justice, not only in the state but in the country. Florence Allen, also of Cleveland, was the only woman to serve as judge in the Ohio Supreme Court, her term was from 1923 to 1934. But this will not be Ms. Harper's first accomplishment if elected, she has made other firsts in her life as well.

After receiving her bachelor of science degree at Western Reserve University, where in 1952 she became the first black woman to receive a law degree from the university, she was admitted to the Ohio Bar Association. From 1952-1960, Judge Harper was in private prac-

Candidate Swafford Promises An Improved Clerk Of Courts

By SHUARA R. WILSON

Production. That is the most important idea Flora N. Swafford, the Democratic candidate for Franklin County Clerk of Courts, wants voters to remember on election day.

"Can Flora Swafford produce is more important than the color of the candidate," stressed Mrs. Swafford. "Color of the skin has nothing to do with service. The clerk of courts doesn't make legislation," she continued.

According to Mrs. Swafford, when county residents who work 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. do not have easy access to the auto and boating title bureaus, that is not good service. "There are seven hours that those (County Clerk of Court) employees work. I have recommended the hours (8:30 to 4:30), be extended to use flex-time and perhaps half a Saturday, once a month," she said.

Other improvements the former Central State University Assistant Dean of Women suggests include a job description and a salary schedule of employees. "Lastly, I'll do away with the three percent tax on workers' salaries, which goes in a flower fund to elect the incumbent candidate," she said.

Mrs. Swafford said she has spent a little over $3,000 during the campaign while her opponent has access to the flower fund. Although she does not have money for radio and television ads and her name is not well known Mrs. Swafford is undaunted.

"I'm the first black woman endorsed by the Franklin County Democratic Party to run county-wide. I'm campaigning door-to-door in the hard areas like Groveport where some black guy told me, 'This is Ku Klux Klan Country. That's where I wanted to go. I've met people and no doors slammed in my face,' she said.

"If the white candidates can come into the black area and get their votes then black candidates can go into white areas and get their votes," she said with confidence.

Beatty To Urge Housing For Elderly, Handicapped

State Rep. Otto Beatty Jr. announced Monday that he has proposed legislation authorizing sale of the old State School for the Deaf building, located at 405 E. Town St.

In addition to the physical facility, 9.8 acres of land surrounding the property will also be sold, Beatty said.

"The building should be renovated and designed to serve the needs of the elderly and handicapped persons," Beatty (D-31st House District) explained.

According to Beatty, by allowing the sale of the property, jobs will be created due to the heavy renovation necessary. After

After 3½ years of Carter's broken promises, Black Americans need jobs.

In 1976, while running for President, Jimmy Carter made a number of promises to Black Americans in order to get himself elected.

He promised to achieve an "unemployment rate of 4% by the end of his first term in office."

And when Jimmy Carter became President, he made this promise: "We've got to have the major emphasis on jobs... that will be the main thrust of my Administration."

Yet today Black unemployment is nearly double that of our whole population. Over one million Blacks have been thrown out of work.

In many cities, nearly half of all Black teenagers cannot find a job.

Small and minority-owned business bankruptcies have increased 48% in the past year alone.

Black families' income had reached 60% of white family income by 1976, has since fallen further behind.

Looking at the Carter record, can any Black say: A job well done?

Can Blacks afford 4 more years of Jimmy Carter?

Ronald Reagan is a man who is different.

As Governor of California, Ronald Reagan showed what results, not empty promises, can mean:

He mobilized private industry to provide jobs for the hard-core unemployed in the Watts area of Los Angeles.

He reorganized the Department of Employment Development, enabling it to emphasize job creation activities, manpower development programs, employment placement services, and vocational rehabilitation.

He increased the number of Black state employees by 23% and appointed more Black citizens to policy-making positions than all previous California governors combined.

As President, Ronald Reagan will zero-in on the problem of jobs. He knows that jobs can only be created by an economy that's allowed to grow. And he knows how to create the economic conditions which will help every able-bodied American who wants a job to find one.

Black Americans cannot

Jimmy Carter and broken promises. Black Americans need Ronald Reagan for President.

The time is now.

Reagan for President.

Issue 2. The Plan to Trick You Into Voting for a Billion Dollar Tax Hike.

You may find this hard to believe... but just when the rest of the country seems determined to do something about excessive taxes and runaway government spending, you and other Ohio voters are being asked to approve a billion dollar increase in state taxes.

This massive tax increase proposal will be on the November 4th election ballot as Issue 2. It's been put on the ballot — not by our elected officials — but by a group that calls itself the Ohio Public Interest Campaign... OPIC for short.

OPIC believes in big government and big government spending. They know the chances of getting people to vote for a huge tax increase are slim. Granted, Issue 2 does provide some tax credits. But more importantly, Issue 2 raises personal income and business taxes by 6 times as much... a total tax increase of 1 billion dollars.

But take a close look and you'll see Issue 2 for just what it is... the biggest tax increase ever proposed in the history of Ohio, a tax increase that would mean higher taxes, higher prices and fewer jobs.

Issue 2 Would Raise Prices

You and every other Ohio consumer would be hurt by the millions of dollars in higher business and industry taxes in Issue 2.

These tax increases would be passed on to you in the form of higher prices on most everything you buy... including utility services and other necessities like food, clothing and shelter. That means Issue 2 would be especially hard on the elderly, the poor and other people living on fixed incomes.

Issue 2 Would Raise Unemployment.

Issue 2 would have a terrible effect on Ohio's job market. Because of the changes it would make in the state's existing tax structure, Issue 2 would make it extremely expensive for businesses and industries to expand their operations or modernize their facilities.

These expenses — plus the millions of dollars in higher taxes — would be enough to drive many businesses right out of Ohio... at the same time discouraging other industries from locating in the state.

The loss of Ohio jobs already is a very serious problem. And Issue 2 would make a bad situation much worse.

Issue 2... A Bad Idea From Start to Finish.

The huge tax increases in Issue 2 would hurt Ohio and every Ohioan... even the people it's supposed to help.

Not only that, but there's no guarantee the billion dollars in new tax money raised by Issue 2 would be spent wisely.

OPIC presented this very same proposal to the Legislature earlier this year. Our lawmakers wouldn't buy the idea of a billion dollar tax hike. So now OPIC is trying to sell it to you and other Ohio voters.

But don't be fooled by all the talk about tax reform. Issue 2 would put Ohio in a billion dollar bind it might never get out of. On election day, vote NO on Issue 2.

On November 4th,
Vote NO on Higher Taxes.

FUND RAISERS - State Senator William F. Bowen, Cincinnati Democrat, fourth from the right, back row, sponsored a fund raiser recently for his friend and co-worker, Senator Michael Schwarzwald of Columbus, third from the right. Bowen invited area businesspersons and citizens to join him in supporting the re-election of the 16th district senator at the Colony Club Apartment event. From left to right, back row:

Charlene Jones, Jim Green, Jim Allen, Bowen, Schwarzwald. Front row: Charolette Bobo, Margaret Sims, M. Burton and Jenice Golson. In urging support of Schwarzwald, Bowen noted he sponsored a bill designed to control use of excessive force by police and co-authored legislation to increase the number of state contracts awarded to small and minority businesses.

Blacks Support Rinehart Bid

A group of black supporters of the re-election of Franklin County Treasurer, Dana G. Rinehart, hosted a reception in his honor on Saturday, Oct. 25, at the home of Daisy Flowers. Sponsors of the fundraising event for the Republican incumbent candidate were: Barbara J. Reese, James Willis, J.W. Ross, the Rev. R.F. Hairston, Sr., Carl L. Brown Sr., Bernard Harris, Steve Cheek, Rosetta Green, the Rev.

Jerome Ross, Loretta Clark, Ethel Mitchell, James M. Garrison, the Rev. J.B. Harris, the Rev. G.T. Turner, Dr. Wilton Smith, the Rev. Frank L. Hearn and Mrs. Flowers.

ELECTION SUPPORT - James Earl Jones, above, star of stage, screen and television, is one of several well-known black Americans presenting "Get Out the Vote" messages on national television. The voter pleas are introduced by NBC news correspondent John Chancellor and appear throughout NBC-TV's morning, afternoon and prime-time broadcast schedule. The spots have also been made available to local affiliates and can be seen on WCMH-TV4. Other stars and personalities supporting the ballot are: Cab Calloway, Mrs. Coretta Scott King, Bill Cosby, Lionel Hampton, Benjamin Hooks and Leslie Uggams.

Campaign Intensified On Issue Two Tax Proposal

With the Nov. 4 general election just days away, the campaign for and against Issue 2, a proposed tax relief, tax reform issue to be decided by the voters, is being intensified day by day.

Lined up with supporters of the controversial issue which will appear on the statewide ballot, are: Dr. David Hamlar, immediate past president of the Columbus Board of Education, Gary Holland, a member of the Board of Education, the Near East Area Commission.

On the opposing side are, Franklin County Treasurer, Dana G. Rinehart, The League of Women Voters of Metropolitan Columbus, and Ray Jones, Republican candidate for the 31st District seat in the Ohio House of Representatives.

Hamlar, who is co-chairman of the Franklin County Yes on Issue 2 Committee, said Columbus schools may receive an

"$8.5 million bonus" if the issue is approved by the voters.

Holland, in endorsing Issue 2, cited figures on how passage of Issue 2 would benefit Columbus Public Schools and the Columbus black community in a recent radio talk program.

He charged that opponents argument against Issue 2 are "outrageously exaggerated" and branded their campaign dishonest and a "big lie."

Barbara Gibbs, Franklin County co-chairperson for Yes on Two Committee, in speaking in favor of the issue before the Near East Commission recently, maintained that it will benefit homeowners, renters and farmers to the tune of $1.7 million.

Rinehart, in a news release last week assailed backers of Issue 2 for asking voters to approve the measure on the basis it would provide a "projected $4.2 million for Central Ohio Transit Authority (COTA) and $8.2 million for Franklin County operations next year."

Rinehart made his comments in reaction to a news conference held by the Franklin County Fair Tax Initiative Committee. He could not say whether the committee's financial projections were incorrect, "but I can say the extra money is simply not needed by COTA or by Franklin County," he said. COTA is receiving more than enough money from the one-half percent piggy-back sales tax approved by voters in the last election, and it has not asked for any more than what the taxpayers voted, Rinehart said.

In announcing its opposition to Issue 2, the League of Women Voters cited two objections: It believes that the power to levy state taxes and determine their use resides in the General Assembly.

Passage of Issue 4 is needed to continue the delivery of protective services to some 6000 dependent and neglected children in Franklin, the JLC says.

Noting that the Junior League does not normally get involved with political issues, but the organization of volunteers is "stepping out of its neutral position this time because its members are vitally concerned that children in need will have no place to go if the levy fails," it stated in a press release.

Social Worker's Niche Is Handling Family Problems

"My job is an absolute necessity. Therefore, I've got to love it. It's challenging, rewarding and gratifying knowing that you're helping people," says Ryland Mullins.

Mullins has worked at Franklin County Children Services (FCCS) since 1965. According to him, FCCS is the best place he knows to practice social work.

A Columbus native, Mullins attended North High school before receiving his bachelor's degree in social work from Ohio State University. He later received a master's in social work from the University of Michigan.

Since joining the FCCS ranks, Mullins has filled many job capacities. He began as a cottage parent at Franklin Village, moved on as a caseworker and has since been promoted to supervisor of the Eastside unit.

With offices at 1393 E. Broad St., Mullins supervises a staff of nine people who provide casework services to the Near East Side (north of Broad) of Columbus. Each worker handles an average of 25 cases per month.

Neglect, dependency, abuse, school problems and behavioral problems are some of the reasons why Mullins' workers get involved with families. Mullins said, "I'm proud to say that over 80 percent of the families we work with are responsive and able to keep their children in their own homes or with relatives."

In order to accomplish that goal, all families receive counseling from their caseworker. Support services are also utilized from resources such as Children's Mental Health, Welfare Department, hospitals and clinics.

According to Mullins, the challenging part of his job is training staff in many different areas. "To move into each family and become a part of it takes a lot of skill," said Mullins. "Our caseworkers are not limited to one kind of problem. A caseworker may have to deal with a drug problem in the morning and school truancy in the afternoon of the same day."

Mullins sees many problems in the community. Yet, there is one problem he is seeing more and more frequently. "Young mothers who have more children than their finances and resources can provide for, present a difficult and frustrating problem," Mullins said. "We try to get them to accept certain realities in families and themselves. At the same time, we encourage them to do better and offer resources to help them."

During his 15 years with FCCS, Mullins has seen a lot of growth in the agency. "We've become a lot closer to the community. Our offices are decentralized and we're assessing the needs of families better. We now involve families from the onset, and have them aid in planning for their children and themselves," Mullins said.

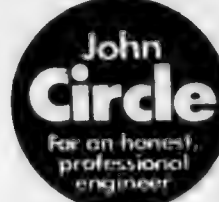

RYLAND MULLINS
...social worker

He added, "Although the agency has always tried to keep families together, there is even greater emphasis on providing services and maintaining children in their own homes."

In the future, Mullins would like to see more preventive work done to help families before they reach the crisis state.

A member of Omega Psi Phi fraternity, Mullins is married and has three children, Alicia 11, Ryan, 7 and Damon, 4. His wife Norma is a counselor in study skills at Ohio State.

- Cooper & Dorrian have kept the county financially strong and maintained a good credit rating. And that's saved you money. For example, on money borrowed for capital improvements projects, Franklin County will pay over $1-million less in interest than the average county in the nation.
- Cooper & Dorrian have carried out a major capital improvements program that included the Municipal Courts Building, County Parking Garage, remodeling of County Stadium, shared living quarters for senior citizens in Groveport and Gahanna, three new schools for the mentally

- Cooper & Dorrian have streamlined and modernized county government by creating a Department of Finance, instituting computerized record-keeping systems, centralized purchasing and restructuring social services to put the emphasis on programs that help people help themselves. Harold Cooper and Mike Dorrian have proven their ability as county commissioners since 1968. Their record of performance deserves your support. Prosecutor's Race Spiced By Double-Deal Allegations

Richard C. Pfeiffer Jr., candidate for Franklin County prosecuting attorney, is spending the last few weeks of his campaign reviewing the issues and reminding voters of the political deal which brought this opponent into office last spring.

Pfeiffer, who has knocked on approximately 25,000 doors in Franklin County, said he has found voters to be both "frightened at the recent upsurge of juvenile crime and frustrated at the games being played in the prosecutor's office."

"The switching of jobs between former prosecutor George Smith and the appointed incumbent, a former Municipal Court judge can only be explained as a musical chairs political deal," Pfeiffer has told voters.

The 36-year-old attorney refers to the fact that Smith, after resigning, was immediately appointed to the Municipal Court judgeship vacated when a municipal court judge was appointed prosecutor last spring.

"I'm running not only against the recently appointed prosecutor, but against the history of political manipulation of that office," said Pfeiffer, who served the past seven years as chief counsel to the Ohio House of Representatives.

Over the last five years, Pfeiffer was also executive assistant to Ohio House Speaker, Vern Riffe. Pfeiffer says this gave him tremendous expertise in administering an office the size of the prosecuting attorney's.

The prosecutor's office employs about 100 persons and spends in excess of $1.5 million a year. Pfeiffer has criticized his opponent for lacking the administrative skills to efficiently run the prosecutor's office.

The major issue Pfeiffer has emphasized is the need to limit plea bargaining. Pfeiffer proposes to eliminate plea bargaining for serious crimes such as murder and rape and also to end trial-day plea bargaining.

In order for his proposal to work, Pfeiffer will establish an intake division, with attorneys available 24 hours a day, to make certain the initial charge filed is the correct one.

DISCUSSING PROBLEMS - Bob Shamansky, Democratic candidate for Ohio's 12th Congressional District seat, left, and a long-time member of the board of the Columbus Urban League, discusses community problems with League executive director Frank Lomax. Unlike his Republican opponent, Bexley resident Samuel Devine, Shamansky's deep concern with community problems has been a major part of his campaign to unseat Devine who Shamansky charges has "always voted against fair housing, food stamps, public transportation and civil rights legislation in general."

Bob Shamansky Cites Devine's 'Sordid' Record

With the general election just days away, Bob Shamansky, Democratic candidate for 12th District Congressional seat, literally "lowered the boom on his opponent, Republican incumbent Samuel Devine. Speaking at the Heritage Tower, a Jewish retirement facility last week, Shamansky, noting that it was built with federal money, charged that Devine voted against funding of the project.

In voting against the funding, Devine eminently demonstrated an "utter insensitivity to the needs and dignity of older Americans," Shamansky told reporters.

"Devine's record on behalf of older Americans can only be characterized as neglectful, if not irrelevant," Shamansky said.

Continuing to rake the 22 year veteran Congressman over the proverbial coals, Shamansky noted that Devine's record included numerous votes against legislation designed to help senior citizens, including Medicare and Food Stamps for the poor.

"Devine was so opposed to Medicare, that he 'voted against that program, not once, but three times," Shamansky charged.

Devine, Shamansky added, has introduced legislation which would have allowed drug companies to market medication of "no therapeutic value whatsoever."

"No wonder, he (Devine) receives so much campaign money from pharmaceutical manufacturers; his concern is obviously not with the sick and elderly citizens of our community, but with the health of his own political future," the veteran attorney said.

"Evidently, Devine doesn't care too much about the many older people who ride the bus in an effort to stretch their meager fixed income either," Shamansky said. He voted against transportation appropriations that COTA must have, and since he does not support legislation at containing rising health care costs, he certainly isn't looking out for anybody but his friends in certain big businesses who can reward his reelection campaign," Shamansky said.

When Devine voted against the Oil Windfall Profit tax bill, "he knew full well that the Congress can apply at least 80 percent of the revenue from that bill to a reduction of personal and business income taxes, a measure that could offset the growing bite Social Security will be taking from our paychecks in coming years."

Shamansky predicted that "responsible men and women will seek to protect the Social Security system on which so many older Americans must rely."

Then injecting a piece of his witty sarcasm that he popularized as a television analyst, Shamansky said, "It's too bad that Devine's loyalty to the big oil companies overwhelms any impulse he might have to help older Americans in these crucial areas."

Ministerial Alliance Supports Schwarzwald

The Baptist Ministerial Alliance has promised its moral support for the candidacy of Michael Schwarzwald, who is seeking reelection to the Ohio State Senate.

The Ministerial Alliance promised its moral support for Democratic Senator Schwarzwald after he joined them for breakfast during their regular meeting on Monday October 27 at Gay Tabernacle Baptist Church.

Senator Schwarzwald joined the breakfast meeting to explain his record during his first term in office, indicating that during his first term he has taken policy positions based on moral rather than politically expedient considerations.

He also indicated that these same considerations are being used as the basis for his opponent's campaign.

State Senator William F. Bowen, one of two black senators in the Ohio Senate, also joined the breakfast to demonstrate his support for Schwarzwald and to ask the Ministerial Alliance to join him in that support.

In response to these questions the Alliance, chaired by pastor Odell Waller, voted to lend its complete moral support to the candidacy of Michael Schwarzwald for the Ohio Senate.

Beatty To Urge Housing

(Continued from Page 1B) the structure is refurbished and, as a result increases its tax value, the new facility will help increase the city tax base, he promised. Beatty, the Democratic incumbent running for election Nov. 4, said that he ovation of the historic building into approximately 235 residential units for the elderly and handicapped. The entire first floor of the building will be used for a community center, Beatty said.

Besides adding a pro-tax base and new jobs, Beatty said the bill also calls for a set aside for minority contractors and providers of service in the amount of 15 percent which will mean over a million dollars for minority businesses.

The project will also erase an eye-sore and blight in the community, Beatty noted.

"Children and the community. Several fires have been set there already," he warned.

BY THE WAY...

By Joe Black

Are you one of those who is always asking, "Where is the political representation for our community?" Are you tiring of too little action and too much rhetoric? Would you like to see things turned around?

If you answered yes to those questions, then heed the advice of the National Coalition of Black Voter Participation when they urge us to become involved by locating the voter participation campaign in our town and offering our services. My friends, we have arrived at the time when we must become more sophisticated in our selection of political candidates. They all promise us a chicken in every pot, but the pages of history show that too many of them mean a chicken for those who have and unfulfilled dreams for those who have nothing except hope.

Thus, it requires our recognizing that the selection is more than Democrat or Republican, or Carter versus Reagan. We must listen to and evaluate those political leaders who project sincere plans that are designed to give us lasting dignity and self-respect via equality of justice and an opportunity to attain preparation for today's jobs so that we receive paychecks rather than handouts. To achieve this goal, we must not let political parties think that we are their robots.

So, register....think....and then vote.

MHSC Endorses Issue 4, Offers Advice To FCCS

The Metropolitan Human Service Commission (MHSC) has unanimously endorsed the 0.85 mill tax levy for Franklin County Children's Services Issue 4, and called for a "more open process in making decisions regarding future human services related levies."

MHSC, the planning and coordinating agency for human services in Columbus and Franklin County, issued its endorsement in response to a request from the FCCS Board. The action was taken at the commission's Oct. 16, meeting according to an MHSC press release. In its endorsement resolution, MHSC noted that FCCS would need the funds generated by the levy to continue operating at its present level through 1983.

PUBLIC NOTICE TO OWNERS OF RENTAL PROPERTY

The Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority (CMHA) is administering the Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Program within the Franklin County Area (excluding properties within the boundaries of the City of Columbus), using funds provided by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Under this program, owners will rehabilitate rental units which are now substandard or have major building systems or components requiring repair or replacement within two years. Cost of this work, which must total at least $1000 per unit, may be financed by a local lending institution, the owner or any other source available to the owner. CMHA does not make rehabilitation loans or grants, but will assist owners in obtaining financing.

After required rehabilitation work has been completed, CMHA and the owner will execute a contract which establishes a rent for the units (s) that will cover rehabilitation costs, meet monthly operating expense, and allow reasonable profit. The owner will then lease the rehabilitated unit(s) to income to the owner. CMHA will pay the remainder of the rent directly to the owner. Tenants may not be excluded on the basis of race, color, creed, or national origin.

After rehabilitation, the rent (including utilities) cannot exceed the following Maximum Rents:

Free Employment Counseling Service Offered By Agency

By SHARON SCHROEDER

Ready for a change in jobs?

People have problems getting a job for a variety of reasons. Racism is obviously one reason. Here are some others:

Not knowing what you want to do; not knowing what skills you have; not having the skills you need to get the job you want; not knowing where to look for the job you want; not knowing someone who can help you "get in"; not knowing how to fill out an application; write a resume, or conduct an interview so you present your best self.

Options Outreach is an occupational and educational counseling service that can help adults deal with such problems. "Career counseling" may sound like something only a professional person would use, and only a rich person could afford. Not so.

Today, it is necessary to plan for successful entry or change in the job market. Options Outreach can help you do that and is provided free of charge to residents of the Neighborhood House area.

The job seeker who says "I just want a job" will get just that -- a job -- and little chance for advancement. Job changers who want to break into something different must understand what skills they have, and know about the variety of jobs and organizations that use those skills.

In an effort to share information about fields of work, Options Outreach will be featuring an article every two weeks on different occupational areas. In the next months, you will be reading about jobs available in the fields of:

Health, transportation, social services, manufac-

PACKING THE NECESSITIES - As the bewitching magic of the Eve of All Hallows slowly descends around us, tempting our inner most consciousness with tantalizing hypnotic reflections upon the mysteries of the universe, it's time once again to remind everyone that the Columbus Chapter of Cupidette Club, Inc., will dance the Annual Hobo Hop on Saturday, Nov. 8, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Lausche Building, located at the Lauch Henry helped find the missing ingredient to educate minority engineers. Money.

Lauch Henry is a teacher. And a scientist. And an engineer. He's genuinely concerned about other people. And he has expressed some of that concern in his participation with the National Fund for Minority Engineering Students.

The fund is a non-profit organization attempting to increase the number of Blacks, Puerto Ricans, Chicanos, Mexican-Americans and American Indians enrolled in engineering schools.

These under-represented minorities constitute a rich untapped resource to help fill the growing need for engineers. A need that is expected to continue through the mid-1990's.

IBM's social leave program enabled Dr. Henry to take a year's leave to assist the fund. And IBM continued to pay him his full salary.

The National Fund for Minority Engineering Students is a very worthwhile program. Wherever so, Lauch Henry thinks so. But most important of all, lots of minority engineering students enrolled at colleges and universities all over the country think so.

Presidential Debate May Not Be Deciding Factor For Blacks

Carter, causes some political observers to believe that blacks will not vote in the massive numbers that they did in 1976.

Whether this belief is accurate will not be known until after the Nov. 4 election. However, with few exceptions Carter has received the endorsements and support of black organizations and civil rights activists who traditionally have influenced a considerable segment of the black population.

But whether blacks were persuaded to cast ballots for either candidates in the debate at Cleveland can only be speculated on.

Carter defended his record over the past 3 1/2 years and attacked Reagan's positions on key issues such as foreign policy, tax cuts, energy and Social Security. Reagan defended his record as governor of California and attacked Carter's handling of the national economy and the consequences of his foreign policy.

The few references directly related to the pressing concerns of blacks had both candidates affirming commitments to creating more jobs for all Americans and ending the permanent underclass now developed in urban areas.

Carter made a point to mention that he had appointed more blacks than any previous president. Reagan said allowing the private sector opportunities to receive tax breaks in inner city areas would decrease the high unemployment among blacks.

Because neither presidential candidate revealed specifics of their proposed solutions to high unemployment that for blacks is double that of whites in many cities, a decision by blacks whether to vote for either candidate may rely more on faith than any concrete facts.

Polls indicate that with a small black voter turnout, it is conceivable that Reagan's chances of winning the election are increased. In previous presidential elections, blacks have been the deciding factor when the white population is split about even and blacks vote in massive numbers for the Democratic candidate.

vote for him, many Carter stalwarts have been dispatched to bring tidings and dollars from the president.

Within the past weeks, former Ambassador Andy Young, HUD Secretary Pat Harris, Women's Bureau Chief Alexis Herman, Push Director Jesse Jackson, Georgia State Senator Julian Bond and UN Ambassador Donald McHenry have visited Cleveland.

Carter Democrats have also financed dozens of voter registration or get out the vote drives.

Over $60,000 was spent by present and former Democratic officials on voter registration in predominantly black precincts on the eastside in just 10 days.

These same precincts will be presided over on election day by a person earning $50 if the vote in 1980 is equal to the vote cast in 1976. A 50 cents bonus will be paid for each additional vote cast in the precinct.

A member of the group making the drive said the money is well spent because of the predictability of the black vote. The supporter said a black vote is a Carter vote.

About the only thing Democrats left to chance is the weather. If it rains, sleets or snows on the 21st District you can bet dark clouds will be flying over 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Eastmore Continues Drive To Win City League Title

It's come to the final week and one game to decide the representative from the South Division in next week's City League championship game at Franklin County Stadium.

Eastmore, currently 6-0 in the division and 7-1 overall, will be at West, who stands at 5-1 in the division and 6-2 overall. The winner of the game advances to meet Northland in the title match.

Eastmore continued its unblemished division record by outlasting Walnut Ridge 6-0 last Thursday night. Quarterback Chris O'Connell connected with Bernard Johnson for a 16-yard scoring strike with just 13 seconds showing on the clock to end a scoreless game.

The loss by Walnut Ridge eliminated any hopes it may have had to enter the title game. Ridge, now 4-4 overall, saw its record slip to 4-2 in the division.

Meanwhile, West kept its hopes alive by edging Briggs 9-7 thanks to super performance by senior tailback Kevin Stewart. Stewart scored a touchdown, kicked a field goal and rushed for 100 yards. That gave West a 9-0 lead which it held on to.

In other action in the City League, Independence beat Marion-Franklin 13-7 as Chuck Hendrix scored the final touchdown on a 67-yard run late in the first half. Northland scored 45 points and held Brookhaven scoreless as the team won its sixth game against two defeats. Northland had 362 total yards to just 38 for Brookhaven.

Mifflin stopped Linden McKinley 33-6. Randy Clarkson rushed for 197 yards and scored two touchdowns. Mifflin also got a 70-yard kickoff return from Ricky Baker for a touchdown as the game opened.

South shutout Central 11-0 when David Wilson rushed for 155 yards and scored on a 93-yard touchdown run. Beechcroft beat Centennial 14-0. Mike Fleschman and Bob Calara.

The National Football League, which has blacks in virtually every position on the field except as head coach, has two black quarterbacks as starters. Vince Evans of the Chicago Bears joined Doug Williams of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Evans scored one touchdown and passed for 113 yards against the Philadelphia Eagles on Sunday in a losing effort, 17-14. He also ran for 27 yards.

Meanwhile, a study has been released showing that the NFL limits the number of former black players who receive positions as coaches. Commissioned by the NFL Players Association, the study by the Center for Social Organization of Schools at Johns Hopkins University said that there are no black head coaches and only 20 blacks have been assistant coaches in the league's last 20 years.

At the same time, the study said, 261 assistants and 68 head coaches hired by the league were former non-black players. The study compiled data on more than 5,000 players who were in the NFL from 1960 to 1979.

The Mohawk Raiders, a little league football team, will play the MYCA Chamrocks 5 p.m. Saturday at the Mohawk Stadium, 300 E. Livingston Ave. The game is sponsored by the Kwanzaa Committee.

Spokesman Eddie Tate said that during halftime, Jimmy Moore, a coach associated with the school for 34 years, would be honored. He said all former students and former athletes of the school are invited to the game and ceremonies.

The Columbus Winds, a semi-pro football team, ended its season on Sunday with a 28-0 loss to Delevan (Wisc.) Red Devils in an Eastern semifinal playoff of minor league football.

Michael White, who played basketball at South High School, won $50,000 as winner of the title of the toughest man in the United States and Canada. White, who is 7-foot and weighs 302, defeated Bernard Humphrey of Novi, Mich., at Pontiac on Saturday.

John L. Sullivan of Columbus finished third and earned $5,000. Sullivan won the Toughman Contest held earlier in Central Ohio while White took the semifinals of that contest. He moved to Bay City, Mich., to become a bartender. He entered a toughman contest in that state and won.

Sugar Ray Leonard, former welterweight champion of the world, will meet current title holder Roberto Duran on Nov. 25. Duran won the title from Leonard last June 20 in Montreal.

It would be the first time for all four candidates to appear at the same forum. During a scheduled debate weight champion of the World Boxing Association, scored a 13-round knockout over Gerrie Coetzee of South Africa on Saturday. Weaver connected with a left to the South African's head that sent him to the floor. It was Weaver's first title defense after becoming champion by defeating John Tate with a knockout last March.

Buckeyes Seeking Fifth Big Ten Victory At MSU

By HIRAM L. TANNER

Ohio State will travel to East Lansing, Mich., on Saturday to play the Spartans of Michigan State.

of 76,000. Game time has been scheduled for 1 p.m.

After a hard-fought 21-0 win over Wisconsin last week, the Buckeyes will be seeking their fifth Big Ten Victory at Michigan State. At the present time, they are 6-1 for the season and 4-0 in the Conference. The Spartans have one victory to show for their seven games and are winless in four conference tilts.

The Spartans have lost three close games to top rated teams. Notre Dame nosed out the Spartans 26-21, Michigan won 27-23 and Purdue overcame a 25-19 MSU lead in the fourth quarter to defeat the Spartans 30-25.

In speaking to the press corps at the Jai Lai on Monday, coach Earle Bruce stated that the Spartans seems to play their best football against their toughest opponents. He also said, "They have fine players and we had better look against Wisconsin, Ohio State scored three touchdowns in seven minutes and 23 seconds of the first half. Quarterback Art Schlichter scored twice on option rollouts. Fullback Tim Spencer provided the biggest thrill of the day with a 50-yard burst over the middle for a touchdown.

The Buckeyes gained 196 yards rushing against the Badgers with tailback Calvin Murray picking up 85, and Spencer had a total of 81. Schlichter had 117 yards in total offense and now has 5,194 yards during his career. He only needs 396 more yards to surpass Archie Griffin as the Buckeyes' all-time offensive leader.

Defense was the name of the game against Wisconsin. The aggressive Buckeyes registered their third shutout of the year by limiting the Badgers ground game to 123 yards and the air game to a mere 24 well," Bruce said. "It gave us good field position all day and came up with a number of big turnovers."

Outside linebacker Keith Ferguson received six Buckeye leaves for his winning performance of 79 per cent. He had a quarterback sack, recovered a fumble and was the leading tackler for the Bucks with seven tackles and seven assists.

Other defensive players were Ray Ellis with 95 per cent, Vince Skillling 91, Rod Gorley 91, Todd Bell 90, Mark Sullivan 81, and Al Washington 75.

Brand-New

Philadelphia has restored, revolutionary-era residential areas of Society Hill and Germantown.

The inaugural run of the Columbus Bank One Marathon will be held Sunday Nov. 16.

Some 2,500 male and female runners from 34 states and 10 countries will leave a starting point near the Ohio Center at 12 noon for the 26.2 mile trot.

According to marathon director, Mike Van Buskirk, the local contest is shaping into an exciting and challenging field of international competitors.

The enthusiastic director thinks the race will eventually become an annual classic similar to the Boston and New York marathons.

"We're looking forward to an impressive field of international contenders," Buskirk said.

The marathon has received the certification of the Athletic Congress of the United States, the director noted with pride.

The group is the amateur athletic governing body for running in America, Buskirk explained. Certification is necessary for national and international records to be recognized when set, he said.

Registration for the marathon was closed when the 2,500 entry level was reached.

However, sign-up for a 3.1 mile "Fun Run" remains open. Anyone wishing additional information may write to: Columbus Bank One Marathon, P.O. Box 333, Columbus, OH 43266.

The course, which will wind in and out of many of the city's neighborhoods, was designed so that spectators, by walking only a few blocks, can watch the race's leaders pass at several different mile points, Buskirk pointed out.

The top male and female marathon runner to cross the finish line near Ohio, Center will receive the "Jesse Owens Award." An original sculpture in stainless steel which was designed by local artist and sculptor, Barbara Chavous, was crafted by Davis Metal Fabrication of Columbus.

Bank One of Columbus chairman, Robert H. Potts, in explaining why Owens was being honored, noted: "What moved us more than anything else to commemorate him through the marathon was the exem-

"We selected Barbara Chavous' work because we felt it captured Jesse Owens' indomitable spirit," marathon director, Mike Van Buskirk, said.

"even in recent years the profound beneficial changes that have taken place in our society's structure have been primarily shaped by Black Americans."

-President Carter

Ronald Reagan and his right-wing conservatives have made their program clear. And, it's easy to compare their program with ours.

THEIRS

OURS

MINIMUM WAGE

Reagan has called the minimum wage a major cause of high unemployment.

President Carter sees the minimum wage as necessary and basic to the dignity of human labor.

EMPLOYMENT

Reagan says government should provide broad tax relief to big businesses and assume they will create jobs. He opposed the Humphrey-Hawkins full-employment bill.

President Carter believes government should provide tax relief, where more jobs created, and should provide jobs where no other job opportunity exists. He supported and signed the Humphrey-Hawkins full-employment bill.

EQUAL JOB OPPORTUNITY

Reagan opposes affirmative action, calling it "reverse discrimination."

President Carter believes affirmative action requirements are necessary for Blacks and other minorities to gain equal job rights.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Reagan has opposed civil rights laws aimed at ending restricted housing, employment and educational opportunities.

President Carter has provided by far the strongest dollar support for civil rights enforcement in U.S. history.

HUMAN NEEDS

Reagan is critical of food stamps, unemployment and family assistance programs and has made racially offensive remarks about people who use them.

President Carter strengthened and expanded vital human services programs: elderly housing by 107%; legal services for poor by 25%; and food stamp reforms to benefit an additional 2.2 million low-income Americans.

HUMAN RIGHTS

Reagan says the U.S. must speak out on human rights violations in France, but should not concern itself with human rights in South Africa.

President Carter believes that human rights leadership is the necessary role of a free nation wherever conditions require it.

What we think is important.

But on election day, it's what we do that counts.
